CHINA HIT BY DISASTER; THOUSANDS ARE KILLED

SHANGHAI, CHINA, Sept. 27.—China's third great disaster within a year has been recorded in Anhwei province, where an area larger than the state of Connecticut, has been flooded with the loss of thousands of lives and property damage conservatively estimated at $80,000,000.

The Anhwei catastrophe followed the famine in the seven northern provinces of the republic in which millions literally perished, and the earthquake in Kansu province, in which 40,000 people are estimated to have been killed by tremors that devastated entire counties.

The floods in Anhwei cut rail connections between Shanghai and Tientsin and Peking. Wesley M. Smith, of the Southern Methodist Mission at Changshu, Kiang Su province, who traveled across one hundred miles of the flooded area, was the first arrival here to bring an eye witness account of the disaster.

The flood district, according to Mr. Smith, lies about sixty miles north of Nanking. It is a low, fertile country and was thickly populated, contained numerous villages and several walled cities and thousands of inhabitants. The inundation occurred when Huang-ho lake and some of its tributary rivers overflowed.

Refugees gathered on the railway embankments in the flooded area with their belongings and so closely were they unfortunately packed on these restricted islands in the midst of the watery wastes that numbers were killed by relief and construction trains.

Champion Milkmaid of Kansas

By N. E. A. Service
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27.—Elsie Krasny, 17-year-old high school girl of Topeka, Kas., would rather be known as the best milkmaid in Kansas than win a prize in a beauty contest.

"By being a good milkmaid one does some good in the world," she said, when she won first honors in a cow-milking contest at the Kansas state fair. "By simply being pretty, one doesn't accomplish much."

But he it said, however, Miss Krasny has not sacrificed her good looks. In the contest young women from

Offers To Sell Herself Into Servitude

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Madeline Taylor, 25 years old, of Success, Arkansas, in a letter to the Arkansas Gazette here, offers to sell herself into servitude for two years to any one who will place her invalid husband in a hospital and provide funds for an operation. Her husband, she wrote, is a former service man, honorably discharged from the navy after fourteen months overseas. He sustained an injury to his spine after returning home and has been helpless since, she said.

Her only condition is that the party with whom she contracts give her labor for two years, and the nature of the work be "respectable."

EXTORTION CHARGED IS BEFORE PROBERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Miss Zeh Prevost, one of the show girls participating in Roscoe C. Arbuckle's hotel party, which led to the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was the first witness today in the Arbuckle murder charge hearing in police court.

Arbuckle, Miss Rappe, Miss Bambina M. Delmont, Miss Alice Blake, Alfred Semmacher and Lowell Sherman were in the party, she testified. Arbuckle and Sherman were dressed in pajamas, bath robes and slippers, she said.

Miss Rappe was seated on a cottee at Arbuckle's side, according to the witness, who said she saw "a little bit" of drinking.

Frank Fischbach later joined the party, Miss Prevost added, and others were in and out of the room.

"Did you see Miss Rappe leave the room at any time?" asked Assistant District Attorney Milton U'Kien.

"About an hour later," she replied.

Arbuckle followed Miss Rappe into the room adjoining the one where the party was gathered, closing the door, Miss Prevost continued.

$120 Farm Makes Aged Couple Millionaires

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE PICKERING

EL DORADO, Ark.—If there is anywhere a more democratic millionaire couple than Mr. and Mrs. George Pickering of Union county, folks down this way would like to know about them.

The Pickering family settled on a 120-acre farm near here 32 years ago. The land cost $1 an acre. They were thrifty folk and it wasn't long before the burus were up and the Pickering farm was a real home.

Then came the oil boom. Pickering leased their land to the oil prospectors.

One morning they awoke to find a gusher on their farm. Other wells also "came in" and it wasn't long before the Pickering's share of the profits was running close to $1,000,000 a year.

But, unlike most of the overnight millionaires of the oil fields, they didn't pack their belongings and head for life in one of the big cities. They stuck.

The 120-acre farm today is a forest of oil derricks. Miles of pipe lines cover the ground. Storage tanks are everywhere. But in one corner near their house, where Pickering has reserved a plot for himself, he still raises vegetables for the family table.

Pickering, who is 78, always has done his own farm work, and he says: "To take farming entirely out of my life now would be to rob me of my greatest pleasure."

And despite the 65 years of Mrs. Pickering, nothing phases her more today than to cook a big dinner and invite all the neighbors in to eat.

Two Of Crew Are Missing

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 27.—Only two men lost their lives when the submarine R-6 sank in Los Angeles harbor last night, it was officially announced today by Rear Admiral Herman O. Suckey, commander of the Pacific fleet train and an eye witness of part of the disaster. A third man who was missing and who for a time was thought a possible victim of the accident has been accounted for, together with all other officers and men of the submarine.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., September 27.—Lieutenant I. R. Chambers, who was in command of the submarine R-6, is reported to have been the last man to make an escape from the craft when it sank late last night in the outer harbor at San Pedro with a reported loss of two members of the crew.

After Lieutenant Chambers left the submarine he immediately began to aid members of the crew unable to swim to get to life boats and pieces of floating timbers.

According to a story told by witnesses of the accident, who were aboard the tender Camden and the sister ships, the R-6 was tied up at 6 o'clock last night with two hawsers binding her to three sister ships and two hawsers connecting the string of submarines with the mother ship.

Prior to the disaster the entire crew, it was said, was inside the hull getting torpedoes ready for battle practice. Suddenly the rear torpedo tube apparently yielded to sea pressure and opened. The vessel began to fill rapidly and the members of the crew rushed for the conning tower. One of the first men to reach the outside of the submarine was seen to cut the hawsers, releasing the other submarines.

Just as the man, believed to have been Paulsen, who was reported drowned, reached the conning tower ladder, there was what seemed to be a gas explosion, and it is said the man was thrown clear of the tower, a stream of water following him. The man believed to have been J. Dreffen, reported drowned, never reached the lower ladder, it is said, and he is believed to have gone down with the boat.

The R-6 was of the Holland type, built in 1918. Lieutenants S. D. Jutt and J. M. Steel were junior officers.

No Indication of Cause
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—The sinking of the submarine R-6 last night in the harbor at San Pedro, California, was reported to the navy department today in official dispatches, which said that two members of the submarine's crew probably had lost their lives. The first dispatch gave no details not contained in press dispatches and no indication as to the cause of the accident.

LESS IDLE FREIGHT CARS
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—Idle freight cars on American railroads numbered 17,267 less on September 15 than they did one week previously, the Association of Railway Executives reported today. Cars idle September 15 totaled 432,556, of which 213,545 were awaiting repairs.

NOTED AUTHOR'S PRIZE
ENGLISH SETTER POISONED
OWOSSO, MICH., September 27.—James Oliver Curwood, the author of animal stories, is mourning the loss of one of his prize English setters. He found the dog dead of poisoning yesterday. Curwood has offered a $1,000 reward for capture of the person responsible for the dog's death.

"But I would give $25,000 to have him back," he said.

His normal weight in health while he was president, was 180 pounds. He shows little departure from that figure now. His eye sight is as good, although he has discarded his favorite nose glasses for spectacles. His hair has turned snow white, but it has not thinned. His appetite is too robust to please his physicians.

Motor nerves and muscles of his left side have given more response to treatment than was hoped for. Of course they are not fully active now. He still walks with a cane most of the time, but frequently hangs the cane over his arm, and goes it alone without "my third leg," as he puts it.

There are many angles to Mr. Wilson's present day psychology. Living in Washington within easy access to party friends at the capitol he might give consultation on party politics, but he does not. Whatever a visitor may say in criticism of the Republican administration, Mr. Wilson never makes a reply. He never permits any one in his presence to speak what he regards as "disrespect for the president of the United States."

Mr. Wilson brought with him to the White House the small savings of a lifetime which he preserved. During his terms in the presidency his royalties from books of his own writing, mounted into rather handsome sums. Singularly enough they have shown a marked slump since he left the White House. While he was president circumstances helped him save money.

Upon his modest fortune now he lives simply, with an establishment of only three servants and a "used car."

Wants 'Em To Hang Him

JACKSON, MISS., September 27.—Henry Martin, a negro, convicted of murder, whose death sentence is pending on appeal before the supreme court, is making frantic appeals to Sheriff L. B. Williams to "come on and hang him right away."

"I just can't stand it any longer," Martin told the sheriff yesterday. "This suspense is killing me. Let's forget about the courts and have it over with."

Suspend Head Of Defiance Home

DEFIANCE, O., September 27.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wagner, superintendent and matron of the Defiance County Children's Home, and Andrew Quinn, Henry Greener and George W. Elliott, trustees, were suspended by the board of county commissioners following a hearing Saturday conducted by Prosecutor Roger D. Hay and State Examiner Walter Garrison.

Action resulted from charges of gross extravagance and misuse of county funds in managing the home. Records reveal that expensive dress gowns, toilet articles and foods have been charged to the Children's Home expense account which Prosecutor Hay states never were received by the children.

The resolution of suspension, passed by the commissioners leaves the conduct of the home to Mrs. Maggie Butler, governess, working with the commissioners until the vacancies are filled.

HELD IN PLOT TO FURNISH SINN FEIN ARMS

NEW YORK, September 27.—Charged with conspiracy to supply arms to the Sinn Fein in Ireland and to instruct the recipients in their use, George Gordon Rorke, of Washington, was held in bond today for a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

Rorke, a commission dealer in firearms, was arrested at a hotel last night on instructions from Attorney General Daugherty's office. He had to come to New York in response to a subpoena directing him to appear tomorrow before a federal grand jury in Jersey City, which is seeking to learn how 365 riot guns, alleged to have been intended for the Sinn Fein, found their way into the bunkers of the steamer East Side last June.

"Three other men are involved with Rorke in the conspiracy charges, and their early arrest was predicted by federal authorities. Rorke is specifically charged with having purchased seven machine guns from the Auto Ordnance Company, of New York, in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy."

WEED OUT BOOTLEGGERS

CHICAGO, September 27.—The start in the process of weeding out 2,500 patrolmen on Chicago's police force, alleged by Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris to be bootleggers, was expected today.

Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney, has announced that he will turn over to Chief Fitzmorris today a compilation of all evidence the federal authorities have against policemen in liquor violations.

Chief Fitzmorris in a statement today asserted that he would get rid of the patrolmen involved "as fast as the trial board can handle their cases."

Asserting, however, that the coming winter will bring a big problem for the police department to deal with, Chief Fitzmorris said that the patrolmen were needed to catch criminals and that his first consideration would be protection of the public safety. Every policeman dismissed must be replaced with another officer, he said.

By J. OGDEN ARMOUR
President, Armour & Co.

THE best way to restore national faith and confidence so essential to prosperity is to cease discussing and lamenting the business slump which was the natural aftermath of the war.

Business today is good or bad according to the standard you use in making the comparison. It is bad beside the war-stimulated business of 1918 and 1919, but it is exceedingly good when compared with business abroad and with the business following our own Civil War.

Of course, there is more or less unemployment and this is most unfortunate and a calamity for those who can find no jobs. But the nation as a whole is not unemployed, and the 90

--- Behind The Scenes In The Life Of Woodrow Wilson ---

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Woodrow Wilson fell a sick man two years ago yesterday. Since then he has passed the shadow of death and out of the White House.

Thousands of Americans of whatever political faith, recalled the anniversary of the beginning of the former president's illness and wondered what he was doing. Although he no longer figures in the daily headlines as he used to, Mr. Wilson still is "news."

Therefore it seems appropriate on this occasion to tell the latest news about him.

Mr. Wilson, besides following the ways of a retired gentleman with a lively interest in the world's affairs, lives by the eight hour day which he once told congress was "adjudged by the thought and experience of recent years a thing upon which society is justified in insisting, as in the interest of health, efficiency and contentment." He aims to have eight hours for sleep, eight hours for work, and eight hours for relaxation, and keeps to the schedule pretty fairly.

Seven o'clock in the morning is about his rising time. He once again shaves and bathes alone and then takes some calisthenic exercises prescribed by his physicians as beneficial in restoring the use of nerves and muscles which were impaired during his breakdown. He has breakfast in Mrs. Wilson's boudoir and finds that two years of illness and slow convalescence have not affected his appetite. The morning papers never are neglected whatever else may demand his attention.

Then comes the morning's work. About that time the mail carrier, six days a week, delivers quite a package of letters. They come from a variety of correspondents.

Mrs. Wilson invariably goes over the morning's mail with her husband; some letters are turned over to a secretary for reply, most of them the former president answers personally, dictating to a stenographer who comes from his law office every morning for that purpose. All of them he signs himself.

The former president and his inseparable companion always have their luncheon served in the dining room. Then comes a nap of an hour and then, unless the weather is most inclement a motor drive. Mr. Wilson while in the White House, became attached to a certain automobile. It went back, as is the custom each year, to the manufacturer from whom Mr. Wilson bought it as a "used car." He dislikes exploring new routes, but rather enjoys driving over the same ground at about the same time. Many folk in the country look for him; one quaint old lady recently held up the car and presented a sweater which she had knitted; a little girl gave him a knitted lap robe.

Dinner is an informal affair; sometimes there are guests; always old friends or associates. Mr. Wilson no longer dresses for the occasion as he always did while president; it is in the family. But no meat in the Wilson household ever proceeds until grace is said.

Friends remember him ever at meals. Frequently a Potomac river fisherman sends him a rare specimen from his catch. Once a near friend sent him ducks out of season and paid the game warden a handsome penalty.

After dinner he goes in for reading or amusement. Once a week Mr. Wilson has a motion picture show of his own, and frequently sees the feature film at the theaters down town. Occasionally he goes to a vaudeville show.

Evenings at home, however, are spent in the family circle. The former president and Mrs. Wilson read a book together, or Mrs. Wilson reads aloud. He takes to bed early, not to sleep however, but to relax, to read and write. Like Mark Twain, he does much reading and writing in bed. Propped up in bed on pillows and with a little writing board across his knees, he reads and makes notes, some of them voluminous and in short hand. Nobody knows what they are about. He puts them carefully away.

However, the evening may be spent, however, tired he may be, there is one thing the former president never neglects. It is the reading of a few verses of the Bible. When he says good-night, he invariably reads aloud some short passage from the book which always rests on the reading table at his bedside.

Friends and admirers ask what is Woodrow Wilson's real condition now?

cane most of the time, but frequently hangs the cane over his arm, and goes it alone without "my third leg," as he puts it.

"I'll Give You Leave" Boy Yells To Friend With Gun; Shot In Foot

Johnny Johnson, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of the foot of Jackson street, Sciotoville, is suffering with a 22 calibre bullet in the sole of his right foot the shooting being the result of "I'll give you leave" young Johnson shouted to a friend Sunday afternoon.

The Johnson lad and another boy were hunting for chestnuts Sunday afternoon and were in Swauger Valley when they passed the home of Oliver Gains. Gains is about 10 years of age and was in the front yard of his home when the boys passed. Johnson knows Gains well and just after he passed the front yard he yelled to Gains, "I'll give you leave" meaning that he would give a target for Gains. Gains claims he pointed the gun toward the ground and intended to scare the lad but says that he must have aimed a little high the bullet entering the lad's foot.

The wounded boy was not taken to his home until after dark the shooting occurring late in the afternoon. This morning Mrs. J. W. Hentche, of Sciotoville and C. M. Andre of Wheelersburg operated on the lad's foot but failed to get the bullet as it had plunged through the flesh and entered a leg bone. The shot entered the foot near the ankle. Unless the leaden pellet gives the lad some trouble the bullet will be allowed to remain in the bone.

HERMES DROPS DEAD ON FARM

Oscar Hermes, world war veteran, and native of Texas, who had been a resident of Portsmouth for over a year, dropped dead about 7:30 o'clock last night on the Kendall Dover farm five miles north of Harrisonville on the Jackson pike. He was walking across the farm with his employer, James Turner who manages the farm, when he suddenly fell to the ground and expired. Turner attempted to revive the young man but failed.

Later Undertaker Daehler of this city was called and the young man's body was brought to this city where an autopsy was held this morning by

Coroner J. D. Hendrickson and Dr. J. W. Daehler. It was found that death was caused by thrombosis, the obstruction of a blood vessel by a clot formed at the place of obstruction. The examination of the body showed the obstruction to be near the liver. Hermes, who was about 35 years of age, leaves his parents and several brothers and sisters in Texas. The father was notified of the death this morning and the body will be held here until word is received from him. The young man came to Portsmouth in July 1920, from Huntington. He had been in Huntington only a short time having received treatment at the Walter Reed hospital at Washington before going to Huntington. He worked at odd jobs in this city not being able to do heavy work. Several weeks ago he went to the farm near Harrisonville in the hope that his health would improve. He appeared in his usual health yesterday and worked about the farm with the M. J. Price home 1400 Center street. He leaves many friends in this place since coming to Portsmouth. Hermes served overseas with Uncle Sam's forces and was with the Army of Occupation for some months.

ALLEGED PURSE SNATCHER IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Alexander Evans, 22, colored young man, arrested and charged with the snatching of a purse from Mrs. Nellie Newman as she was walking out John street, near Ninth last evening, was bound over to the grand jury this afternoon by Judge Sprague, who fixed his bond at $100. The purse contained three ten dollar bills and 75 cents in change. Evans was charged with highway robbery. Attorney H. A. Taylor defended.

Evans, who gave an alibi that he spent the evening at the Lincoln theatre and Johnson pool room, contending that he could not have been at the scene of the robbery at the time alleged.

BOY MAY DIE FROM BURNS

Freddie Horner, 16 year old lad of Howard Furnace near Lyma, in the eastern part of the county was seriously and perhaps fatally burned in a powder explosion Sunday. His younger brother was burned slightly. The Horner boys and Arnet Mustain of the same neighborhood visited an old coal mine about a mile from their home just inside the entrance to the mine found a can of blasting powder. They were playing with the powder and had put some of it in a paper when it caught fire from a carbide light one of the trio carried.

The Horner boy's clothing caught fire and was burned off him. He was painfully burned all over the body. The burns about the face are very dangerous the lad being unable to open his eyes. Today he was reported very delirious.

MAY VOTE ON DAYLIGHT SAVING

At the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors today noon it was decided to petition the Board of Election tonight at the Board's meeting to place the question of Daylight Saving before the people at the regular November election.

This will give the people of Portsmouth an opportunity to cast their ballots for or against Daylight Saving. The Chamber believes that this is an issue that rightfully belongs to the people and the people should be the ones to decide the question.

It is one that affects all the people and therefore the matter should be put up to them to settle. The Board of Election will meet tonight to let contracts for ballots and the result of the C. of C. Directors' meeting will be made known to the Election Board through Manager W. S. Harris who will present the petition in the form of a petition. The Chamber does not stand for or against the issue. The Henry Ford committee, named to offer Mr. Ford any assistance or aid they could possibly render in any proposed activity he was to take in this section reported that they had not been successful in obtaining a personal interview with Mr. Ford but expected to meet soon with George E. Cowling, managing director of the D. T. & I. Mr. Cowling makes frequent visits to Ironton and when he is there on one of his visits the local committee will call on him. They are awaiting word from Mr. Cowling as to when he will visit Ironton.

Collins, Accused Of Shooting At Officer Harding, Placed On Trial

Oliver Collins was placed on trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Tuesday on a charge of shooting at with intent to kill Patrolman George Harding. The shooting occurred on Second street, between Market and Jefferson, on the evening of May 6, 1921, while the defendant was resisting arrest. It was claimed by the state, for violating the traffic law.

The state contended that Collins was traveling west in an automobile, which was also occupied by four others, cut across the street opposite the Arlington Hotel in front of a street car, barely avoiding a collision and that the policeman observing the incident swung onto the running board of the machine which swerved back to the north side of the street and stopped. It was claimed that Collins then jumped out of the machine, and drawing his gun, started firing in the direction of the officer at the time declaring that he would not be arrested; that the officer after putting a bullet in each rear tire returned the fire and in the exchange of shots which followed Collins was shot in the hip.

The defense claimed that Collins was shot by the officer before he got out of the automobile or before he drew his gun. Harding first witness. Patrolman Harding was the first witness called. He testified of approaching Collins' auto to take him to task for driving recklessly and told of jumping on the running board and ordering him to stop as the machine swerved back to the north side of the street. He stated that Collins jumped out of the auto onto the sidewalk as soon as it stopped with gun in hand and exclaimed, "You're not going to take me" and then quickly got back into the machine. Harding said he then shot into the rear tires to prevent Collins from starting the machine and that Collins then fired the third shot from the rear of the machine. The witness then declared he opened fire on Collins and both captured their guns after which Harding said he retired up the street to reload his weapon and while he was doing this Collins left the scene in the machine which was later found abandoned on Second street, near the Scioto bridge, where it had collided with another car.

Cross examinations

On cross examination Harding declared that he did not pull his gun until after Collins had furnished his weapon and he vigorously denied threatening to shoot Collins if he attempted to run. The officer exhibited to the jury the bullet holes, one through the lower part of each tire and made by leaden missiles from the defendant's gun.

Other eye-witnesses to the gun-battle including Jacob Helzel, John Helzel, Jonathan Rieck and J. E. Hale, conductor of the street car, were called by the state and their evidence in the main supported the testimony of Patrolman Harding.

The accused on the stand in his own behalf denied firing any shots at all at the officer. He declared that he was shot in the hip before he got out of the automobile and that he did not secure his pistol from the machine and fire it until he reached the ground. Collins stated he did not know Harding was an officer when he climbed on the auto and said that it never occurred to him to tell him to get off. He denied telling Harding that he would not submit to arrest.

Did Not Vary

The testimony of Ralph Mullet, of Riceville, Johnson county, Ky., and Mrs. Harry Malone, daughter of the accused, who were in the auto at the time, did not vary materially from the story told by Collins. They stated that Harding dropped from the running board of the machine as it crossed the street and as it stopped fired two shots into the rear tires and raising his gun fired again. They then said that Collins, who was in the front seat, exclaimed "I'm shot" and then jumped out of the car and passed around the front of the vehicle. Both testified to hearing Harding declare, "If you run I'll kill you," and Mrs. Malone stated that she was slightly wounded on the left leg by a bullet from the officer's gun. Mrs.

Malone was positive that her father was shot while he was still in his seat in the machine and that he then jumped out on the north side and passed around in front.

The evidence of Harry Malone and Miss Nina Collins, another daughter of the accused, who were also in the machine, was substantially the same as the others.

Women On Jury

The jury which is hearing the case is composed of two women, Lena

Kline Reed and Cornelia Treuthart, and ten men, no trouble having been experienced in selecting the panel as neither side exercised a single peremptory challenge.

The evidence and arguments of counsel were completed in mid-afternoon and it is expected the case will get to the jury by five o'clock. The accused was defended by Attorneys Theo. K. Funk and L. A. Thompson and Prosecutor Sheppard appeared for the state.

Belt Faces A Serious Charge

Thornton Belt, colored, aged 49, was arrested late last night. He is accused of firing three shots at Ellis Greer, also colored. The gun play resulted from an argument the two men had at Eleventh and Waller streets.

After the shooting Belt fled to the East End, where he was found in a barn near Gallia and Clay streets, by Captain Staritzman and Officer Powers. Belt is having a hearing in Municipal court this afternoon on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Margaret W. Goltz and Mr. William F. Staker was solemnized this afternoon, at two o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Goltz, 720 Eighth street. Rev. S. Thelenmeyer, pastor of the First Evangelical church, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony. The wedding was marked by simple elegance and was attended by only the immediate families of the happy couple. Clever artistic hands made the rooms most attractive by the use of great bouquets of fall flowers, carrying out a color-scheme of yellow and white. Prior to the entrance of the wedding party, Miss Emma Deltort took her place at the piano and played "I Love You Truly" and "Call Me Thing Own." At the sound of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party advanced to the parlor, where they were met by the officiating minister, and the ceremony was solemnized to the accompaniment of the soft, sweet cadence of "Call Me Thing Own," played by Miss Deltort. At the close of the service she played Mendelssohn's recessional. Mrs. Staker was the picture of girlish love-bliss in a handsome fall suit of reindeer shade with fur trimmings, and a chic hat and other accessories to harmonize. A corsage of pink bride's roses and similar completed her attractive costume. The attendants were Miss Mary Herrmann and Mr. Allen Staker, a brother of the groom. Miss Herrmann looked lovely in a charming cut suit of blue tulle-trimmed with grey accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. A brief reception followed the ceremony, and in the dining-room delicious refreshments of yellow and white cream and cake and minis were served. The wedding cake was a very beautiful one, and was first cut by the bride, followed by various others present.

The bride is beautiful, attractive and talented and adds to these graces a sweet and lovely character. She is a fine musician and is at present the official organist of the Franklin Avenue M. E. church. She has been a pupil of Miss Emma Deltort since childhood and it was with much pleasure that Miss Deltort presided at the piano during the marriage ceremony. Since the announcement of her engagement a few weeks ago, Mrs. Staker has been the house-guest at several pre-nuptial affairs given by her wide circle of friends.

Mr. Staker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Staker of Campbell avenue and holds a responsible position as clerk at the local post-office. He is a splendid young man and well worthy of his charming young bride.

Rev. Tillis Tendered Real Surprise

A surprise party that was a real surprise was given Rev. H. Stewart Tillis, pastor of the First Baptist church last evening, it being in celebration of his 39th birthday anniversary. Its success is due to the work of the Women's Bible Class who planned the entire affair. Rev. Tillis is teacher of the class.

An official board meeting was held last evening in the pastor's study at the church. Of course every one present with the exception of the pastor knew of the party and all insisted that the board meeting be over by 8 o'clock. Rev. Tillis says he suspected something wrong when everyone wanted the meeting over by a set time but never thought of such a thing as a party.

At the close of the board meeting one of the men informed the pastor that his wife had sent over for him and he was accompanied by T. D. Smith and J. A. Wheeler who wanted to see if anything was wrong. The blinds were all drawn and most of the lights were out and when the pastor opened the door of his home the lights were all turned on and the crowd that filled almost every empty space in the house rushed out at him. It was a big surprise for him, nearly 200 members of the Sunday School and church being present. A short program was then held with Miss Mertie Graham singing the opening solo. Bill Spence led in prayer after which Rev. W. H. Overstreet, pastor of Berean Baptist church at Sciotoville, gave a talk on "Good Fellowship." J. A. Wheeler spoke on behalf of the Men's Class and the Baraca Class and presented the pastor with a fountain pen. In a neat speech of presentation Mr. Wheeler said that the prayers of the classes had been answered when a man like Rev. Tillis was sent here to direct the work of the church and its various organizations. Mrs. James Dawson spoke for the Senior and Junior Philathea Classes and Mrs. Carson's class and presented the pastor with an electric toaster.

Following the talks refreshments were served by the Women's Class. Mrs. George Carson is president and Mrs. John Long, secretary of the Women's Class. Mrs. Long presided as chairman of the evening's activities.

Rally Week Being Observed

Rally Week at Franklin Avenue M. E. church opened up last night with a banquet attended by 30 members of the Sunday school board. The tables placed in the shape of the letter "U" were profusely decorated with flowers, and loaded with good things to eat. Between courses the guests broke out in singing "The Gang's All Here, to Help the Preacher," etc. which added pep to the meeting. After the meal the regular business of the Sunday school board was transacted. A new system of organization was presented and adopted, to be introduced next Sunday. Other things pertaining to the work of the newly appointed Parish worker, Miss Rue Kirk, were discussed and provided for. She begins her work this week. After the routine business had been taken care of a most interesting program was carried out in the discussion of four topics pertaining to the Sunday school work and problems. "The Bible in the Sunday School," "Bible Study for the Teachers and Officers," "Recruiting Teachers," and "The Teacher's Standard of Faith." The discussions were most able and interestingly opened by Mr. Geo. S. Carroll, Mrs. M. Kate Reiser, Mr. Frank E. Keifer and Mr. Harry E. Smith, respectively. These general discussions brought out some valuable thoughts and suggestions. In closing the pastor, who acted as chairman, expressed his joy and satisfaction over the successful meeting, after which prayer was offered, and the meeting closed by singing the doxology. All felt that these helpful meetings ought to be repeated frequently.

MOCK TRIAL IS ENJOYED

The mock trial held last night by Portsmouth Court, Tribe of Den Hur, caused the big crowd present to remain in a state of laughter for more than an hour.

At the business session plans were discussed for a membership campaign to start Oct. 14. Max Caskey was named as captain. At the close of the mock trial refreshments of cream and cake were served.

In the trial the style of the case tried was "The Great Kidnapping of John Doe, a Wounded Hero." The jury rendered a verdict that instead of Abiliah Phipps, the defendant, having kidnapped Leonora Smithers Trustly, the plaintiff, she kidnapped him. Phipps was played by Frank Liming and Leonora, by Mrs. Max Caskey. Judge Wiselcous was played by Louis Nourse; Gillfillan, by James Marshall; Lawyer Fuselby, by Charles Spratt; Lawyer Sompash, by Robert Ewing; Amelia Rodella, Arrondout, by Mrs. Vera Parsons. The jury was played by the following people: Levi Hochheimer, L. E. Smith; One Lung, Gonz. Put into the Bank the Money you have put in the Fire

THIS is a characteristic of rich men: winter one-third of what you are now putting into the fire.

A rich man never hesitates to throw away old equipment if he can save money by doing so.

One of the richest bankers in the United States took out the ten-year old boiler from his cellar this Summer and installed a new heating plant made by this Company. Why? Because by doing so he can save about one-third of what he has been spending for coal.

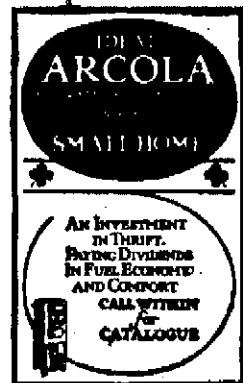

Yet families of modest means go on heating their homes with old furnaces or stoves, and suppose they are being economical.

It is false economy.

You can put into the bank every

You can—with ARCOLA. ARCOLA is the wonderful new heating invention for small homes, with or without basements, that takes the place of a furnace or stoves. By its one fire, connected with American Radiators, it fills every room with healthful hot-water warmth and provides an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing besides. It burns any kind of fuel.

One-third of your fuel is worth saving. See ARCOLA today.

The red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (formerly called Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window. It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents; shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Dear Miss Dolly—I am asking you to help me. I have a home that is so wrecked with moonshine. The head of the house is a slave to it, and Dolly, I know place after place where it is being sold. I know I can't get help from anyone unless it be from the Christian people of Portsmouth. I wish they would wage a war against it. Please advise me as I am so unhappy and tired of life.

If you will give the names of the places where it is being made or sold to the chief of police he will see that the persons making and selling it are properly punished. It's your duty, and the duty of every citizen in the community to report all violations of this kind to the proper authorities.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me the name of the N. & W. watchman at Greenfield, Ohio. Also tell me how I could address a letter to him.

Dear Miss Wise—What can be done with a couple who will run off to another state and get married without their parents' consent, when they are under age, and swear that they are of legal age?

TIMES READER.
If they are under age, their marriage can be annulled by their parents. If they swear to a lie, that is perjury, and is punishable in the state of Ohio by imprisonment of from one to three years. In Kentucky the penalty is from one to five years in prison, or a fine of $1,000. As a rule, when a couple runs away and gets married, the parents forgive them and let it go at that. Parents could prevent practically all these marriages if they would not permit their daughters

Dear Miss Dolly—I wish you could find a home for my 14-year-old son. I would like to place him in a country home where he could do little chores about the house in return for his board and schooling. one cup water, 1-4 salt spoon of cream of tartar. Put the ingredients in a granite saucepan. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, but no longer. Boil until the mixture makes a "very soft ball" when dropped in cold water. After it has boiled a few minutes sugar will adhere to the sides of the kettle; this should be washed off as soon as it forms, with the hands first dipped in cold water. Pour the mixture slowly on a platter; let cool until pressure with the finger leaves a dent on the surface. If stirred while too warm or if cooked too long it will granulate and must be re-cooked, adding more water. When it will dent, work the mass with a wooden spoon. Continue to stir until creamy; then work with the hands until perfectly smooth. Put in a bowl, cover with cellophane paper to exclude the air and let stand for 24 hours. Make into balls for cream chocolates and centers of walnut creams, etc., adding flavoring if desired. For a quick fondant take the white of one egg and stir in as much confectioner's sugar as the egg will hold. Flavor and mold into small balls. For chocolate creams roll fondant into balls; dip them in melted chocolate and stand them to dry on waxed paper. The necessary utensils are a wire fork and a very small coule d'or. The chocolate when melted should come nearly to the top of the inner boiler. Melt the chocolate; cool to about 80 degrees Fahrenheit; drop a ball with a fork push it below the surface; remove carefully with a fork and set on a plate or something to dry.

SOCIETY

Attractive in every detail was the 500 party given by Miss Maude Wilson Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson, 1637 Highland avenue, housing Miss Helen Dillon, who left today for Chambersburg, Pa., where she will attend Penn State college. Attractive decorations prevailed throughout the rooms and each of the four card tables was covered with a dish of candy and a vase of flowers. Several hours, when handsome favors were presented to the winners, Miss Ethel Eckhart received a bottle of perfume and Miss Ruth Milstead was given a pretty box of stationery. Interest in the game, the service of a delicious salad course, and the personal charm of the hostess, all went to make up a delightful afternoon. Those included in the pleasures were: Misses Helen Dillon, Dorothy Bernick, Gladys Selby, Ruth Milstead, Dorothy Freund, Helen Morris, Jane Bothwell, Ruth Milstead, Doris Dupuy, Eleanor Ellison, Susan Gould, Margaret Stahler, Dorothy Helt, Ethel Eckhart and the hostess, Maude Wilson.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Stallard of Franklin avenue have returned from a delightful motor trip through the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky and a week's stay at Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Catherine Kerns of Covington, Ky., Mrs. Stallard's mother, returned with them for a short visit.

Mrs. Anna Gardner of this city has concluded a short visit to Ironton relatives and friends.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY MYRTLE PHILLIPS

A NEW CLUB IS BORN

The very next morning brought "The Leader" to the breakfast table with Cherry's interview on its first page. Beside it was a charming picture of that lady plus an interesting analysis of the hopes and policy of "The Progressive Wives of Wellsburg Club."

Cherry watched her mother-in-law from the corner of her eyes as she saw her nap the paper open and noted the look of amazement on her face as she read through to the end. When she had finished she laid the paper down and went on calmly eating her grapefruit. "This was typical of her," she reflected. "When praise was singularly quiet, but she never missed an opportunity to null over something that was worthy of attack."

"Too proud to venture any remarks herself," Cherry ate her breakfast in silence. It was Jane who burst forth into eloquence as soon as her eyes fell on the article. "This was followed closely by Jack the Irrepressible."

"If this isn't the best ever," Cherry said, "you've put all the old gossips in their proper place. And it's about time, too. I despise Miss Little's meanness. Every girl I know here is 'tired to death' of her. Sometimes I feel like going and made up stories about different girls she'd meet on the street and told their mothers things that actually weren't true. Nobody really likes her. It's impossible. She's such a snake."

"Well, the Leader sent around to Hauben's for the interview yesterday," said Cherry, "and I felt that it was the only thing to do. There are always two sides to every question. As for Miss Little, I despise her too much to even let her think that her bitter tongue could ever anger me. That's the best way to deal with people like her, Janey."

"Miss Little has the town's interests at heart. She is not as bad as you make her out to be," said Mrs. Randall severely. "And most of our young people have no right to dislike her for this. Suppose we did let her run things in the way you would like to? The whole of Wellsburg would be in an uproar in a day. We've not been accustomed to having 'disgraced wives' in our midst. Naturally, the fact that there are some in Wellsburg comes as a shock to the conservative, home-loving members of the community."

"The Progressive Wives' Club," Cherry pointed out, "corrected Cherry gently. 'Nothing strange about it either. Rules read much the same as those of the other clubs that meet here every week.'"

"There's one difference," she went on, "keep up with the times and develop our minds as much as possible, as well as be good wives. I fail to see anything radical or dreadful in that, mother."

Mrs. Randall sniffed, but held her peace.

"Well, I'll say they looked about as happy as most of the wives in this old town," those progressive ones I saw last night when I peered in the window," Cherry said, Jack, with a twinkle in his eye. "And they sure are the best looking women in the town, too. (Those that's what set off the old maids by the way. Jealous.)"

"Jack, attend to your breakfast and don't talk about things you know nothing about," warned his mother, sharply.

hundred women, prominent in the social and civic life of the city were present and enjoyed the interesting program presented. A feature of the afternoon was the talk by Mrs. Albert H. Marling on "Impressions Gained From the Civic Life of England and France," during her trip abroad this summer.

She spoke in glowing terms of the wonderful gardens to be seen all through England and France, of the varying shades of color that meet the eye everywhere, of the care taken by practically every landowner in cultivating flowers and protecting the trees. The cleanliness of the highways through the rural districts, especially, makes an impression upon the traveler, Mrs. Marling said, if being a common sight to see farmers out sweeping up the roads. And of the neatness of French women, the speaker made particular mention, saying that it was seldom one could find even a country woman with her hair awry, or her clothing disarranged.

The optimism of these people in going ahead with cheerful hearts to the task of rebuilding their devastated homes, laying out their farms once more and making over their villages, brings hope into the heart of the passing foreigner. Combined with this optimism is that capacity to work for which nearly all Europeans are noted. Seldom will anyone be found who is a chronic idler. When there is work to be done, these people seem to glory in doing it completely and to the very best of their abilities.

Mrs. Marling also spoke of the immaculate cleanliness of the people of Switzerland. The little mountain homes of the Swiss peasants were the very personification of cleanliness.

And lastly, Mrs. Marling spoke of the great respect with which the English and French look up to those men who have borne arms in the defense of their countries, of those who fought and were crippled for life, of those who died on the fields and in the hospitals. Citizens passing a uniformed man on the streets recognize him with a salute; passersby bare their heads before a hero's statue. There exists a genuine respect and reverence in the hearts of these people for the soldiers of their countries.

Following Mrs. Marling's talk, Mr. Foster Krake gave a brief talk in which he scored the inability of the prevalent "jazz" music, saying that while people may learn the words of a song they do not get at the true content of music, owing to the effect of this latest type of music.

Mr. Krake then sang "Since You Went Away," and, by special request, "Mother O' Mine," being accompanied on the piano by Miss Olea Albertson.

Following these pleasing numbers, the whole company present sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Swanee River."

Mrs. Alan Jordan spoke of the noted artists to be brought to Portsmouth this season in the two concerts of the Artists' Course, under the auspices of the Women's Musical, stressing the great good fortune of being able to get such fine musicians to come here. Mrs. Jordan explained the difference between the two priced seats fully, and told how to go about securing tickets of either kind.

At the short business meeting which opened the afternoon's program, plans for the new club on city government, which is to be started soon were discussed and delegates were appointed to attend the state convention of Federated Clubs, to be held in Cincinnati in October. The women appointed were: Mrs. Robert Bryan, Mrs. Grant Williams, Mrs. John Kenrick, Mrs. Edgar Appel, Mrs. William Briggs and Mrs. W. H. Schwartz.

After the program, the guests adjourned to the dining-room, where delicious punch was served. Miss Mary K. Reed and Mrs. Robert Bryan presided at the punch bowl.

Take It In Time!

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

Dr. H. R. By allowing it to remain in the body, they are not giving the natural life force of the body a chance to do their work. Iron is better means for building the red blood corpuscles and helping to give increased power to the blood than any other iron. Busy Program Ahead For American Legion

TOLEDO, O., September 27.—Unfinished business, reports of committees, nomination and election of officers, selection of a site for next year's convention and adoption of resolutions was before the Ohio branch of the American Legion, in third annual convention here today.

The launching of a state-wide campaign to put over the adjusted compensation referendum to be voted on this fall is the most important matter before the convention. Action will also be taken supporting the national legion organization in its fight to get a rehearing in congress of the four-fold adjusted compensation measure that was reconstituted in the senate recently. The problem of the disabled and unemployed war veterans in the state will also get consideration. It is said.

Delegations from the northern and southern part of the state are ranged against one another in a fight for endorsement for a regional government hospital. Cleveland and Cincinnati are both seeking the choice.

Northwestern Ohio delegates will make a fight to nominate a man from this district as state commander. The choice apparently lies between this part of the state and the central district. John R. Priddy, member of the executive committee, and Ralph D. Cole, both of Findlay, appear to be the northwestern Ohio favorite sons. Youngstown and eastern delegates are advancing the candidacy of Robert Roberts, third vice president of the state organization, who is said to have a strong following. The good record of the present commander, John R. McQuinn, of Cleveland, may result in an attempt to induce him to accept reelection. Other aspirants for the office are Charles L. Darling, of Xenia; Robert Hulse, of Columbus, and Victor McIntz and William Myers, of Cincinnati.

Delegations from Zanesville are putting up a hot fight for the next convention and the claims of the Clay City are being heard widely in the convention hall and about headquarters. Other cities who are after the convention are Akron, Cleveland, Columbus and Springfield.

Delegates to the national convention in Kansas City, October 31 to November 3, who were elected last night, are Colonel Ralph D. Cole, Findlay; Lieutenant Colonel George P. Greenhough, Toledo; E. D. Sluts, Lima; Charles Ames, Bryan; W. J. Stump, Port Republic; Dr. J. Kryder, Findlay; H. Elmer, Fort Recovery; Captain Harry F. McFain, Toledo; K. P. Abt, and Fred Howe, Hicksville.

The convention will come to a close tonight.

Jury Disagrees In Glasgow Case

Unable to agree after deliberating an hour and a half, the jury in the case of William Glasgow, colored, charged with shooting at with intent to kill, was relieved from further consideration of the case and dismissed by Judge Thomas late Monday afternoon.

The indictment against Glasgow contained two counts, one of shooting at with intent to kill and the other with intent to wound, but during the progress of the trial these charges were eliminated by the inability of the state to show that the revolver from which the shots were fired was loaded with powder and ball. This reduced the charge to the lesser offense of assault.

The charge grew out of a fight which occurred at a house at 1113 Thirteenth street on the afternoon of August 8, during which it was alleged Glasgow fired two shots at George Ramsey, also colored. The defendant admitted discharging a pistol twice, but contended that the shots were not fired at or near Ramsey, but into the ground instead to frighten the latter after he had hurled a heavy piece of iron at the accused.

G. H. Hehnisch was foreman of the jury which stood, it was learned, 11 to 1 for acquittal throughout the balloting. Two women jurors were members of the panel which tried the case. They were Lena Kline Reed and Cornelia Treuthart and it was a novel experience for them.

The accused was defended by Attorney H. L. Small, and Prosecutor Sheppard appeared for the state.

It combats the film

Most teeth are clouded more or less by film. The film is viscous. You can feel it with your tongue. But it clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And it often forms the basis of fixed coats.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. The tooth brush has left much of it intact. The film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Thus millions of teeth have lost their natural luster.

How film ruins teeth

Film does more than mar the beauty. It is now regarded as the cause of most tooth troubles.

Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles, local and internal.

These troubles have been constantly increasing. So dental science has long been seeking ways to fight that film.

A daily combatant

Two effective methods have now been found to daily combat that film. Able authorities

Also aids Nature

Nature places in the mouth great teeth-protecting agents. But with modern diet, rich in starch, those forces need constant stimulation. Pepsodent supplies that stimulation. This is in keeping with the views of dental authorities.

It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which cause tooth decay.

Each use of Pepsodent increases these forces, and the excess remains for some time. These effects alone, in dental opinion, mean a new era in tooth protection.

No soap—no chalk

Soap and chalk are omitted from Pepsodent, to accord with modern dental requirements. No tooth paste which contains them can bring Pepsodent effects.

Pepsodent is the scientific tooth paste—the new-day method of teeth cleaning. Authorities say that it should supplant the methods which are wrong.

The reasons are told in a book we send. The 10-Day Tube reveals the effects. You will know what is best in a week.

Check Found To Be Bogus

It developed Monday that the man Manning, electrical engineer, Alliance, who passed this way several days ago Ohio, is a fraud of the first water, representing himself to be Ralph. The fellow not only flim-flammed H. W. Elliott out of a $45.30 into repair bill through a bogus check, but he caught other local firms, including The Quassee-Craiglines Furniture company, for small amounts over the bill check and forged express money order routes.

Word from the Third National Bank, Dayton, on which the check the crook passed on Elliott was made, was received yesterday at the Auto Club, of which Mr. Elliott is a member. The bank stated that the stranger had opened an account in the name of Manning, depositing several American Express orders, which were later proved to have been stolen and the signatures on them forged.

"The Portsmouth merchants who have lost money to this man are not the only ones who are looking for him. The bank's letter ends with a statement of fact and word both Elliott and the furniture people can appreciate. 'He is evidently a fraud. We would like to locate him ourselves.'"

The NEW EDISON

The New Edison and books carry culture everywhere.

"Where did you hear Muzio?" the New York dowager asked her out-of-town niece.

KNOWLEDGE of good music is one of the marks of true culture. You and your children can absorb all that is worth knowing in music, by having a New Edison.

This was proved once again when Bamboschek, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, recently heard Muzio, the Metropolitan's great dramatic soprano, compare her voice with its Re-Creation by the New Edison. He said: "The quality of Miss Muzio's voice and the quality of her Re-Created voice are identical."

But the New Edison brings not only the beauties in music. Its perfect realism releases, at last, all the power in music,—and makes possible this newest, greatest step forward in music:

MOOD MUSIC—WHAT IS IT?

Send the coupon for this new book which shows you how to use music for what it will do for you.

Some music has a miraculous power. It soothes you when you're nervous, refreshes you when tired, cheers you when blue. Mr. Edison determined to discover just which selections have this power. Two years ago, he organized a research, and placed it under the direction of Dr. W. V. Bingham, Director of the Department of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The research showed that certain Edison Re-Creations had this remarkable power to affect people's moods and feelings. The psychologists called these Re-Creations "Mood Music".

A PLEA FOR THE D. A. R

By Milford Keys

The members of Joseph Spencer Chapter, D. A. R., of this city, are a devoted sisterhood, in accord with and working to the same patriotic end as the chapters in larger cities further east, and not so far from the revolutionary period as we of the Middle West.

Only the other day the President and Congress gave into the keeping of the D. A. R. chapter's local at Washington City the historic building that a century ago served as the temporary home of President Madison and his family, clerical and otherwise. It has ever since been known as the "temporary white house," and was, and still is, an adjunct to the war department. The D. A. R. agree to place tablets of bronze or polished granite in the building, wherein the names of pre-revolutionary men and women will be carved and make the old structure a shrine to be visited by the patriotic of ages to come. Portsmouth has no historic structure to be thus honored, but the members of Joseph Spencer Chapter are making an effort to come into a household of some kind on the abandoned Children's Home grounds and buildings, the new home near Wheelersburg having been officially taken over and occupied. The abandoned grounds, with its buildings and horseshoe mound, and other footprints of the Mount Builders, is an ideal spot for the D. A. R. Chapter. The main horseshoe mound has been preserved in its entirety during its ownership by the county. A twin horseshoe of exact proportions of the one still in its entirety was plowed over and crop after crop of corn harvested over it till it became almost obsolete half a century ago. Not many people know, and some are prepared to dispute the fact, that the north end of the Highland school house covers the site of this destroyed and practically forgotten horseshoe mound. It is sincerely to be hoped that the D. A. R. sisterhood will succeed in getting at least a leasehold upon the abandoned Children's Home grounds. The time is coming when it will be too late for the fruition of the movement. The ground is too valuable for building purposes to be long idle, and it once it is cut up into lots and sold it will be goodbye forever to a beautiful dream. The grounds have been in the possession of the county for the greater part of a century, and its career has been varied, and at no time monotonous. First, it was the county infirmary—the poor house, if you please—and for more than two decades the indigent and afflicted were bruised and given timely treatment by kind and intelligent officials. Later it became the race course, with a fine half-mile track and the fast steppers, trotters and pacers from near and far, came to the Portsmouth meetings.

Yes, the town was small and somewhat sporty at that time. There were races and pretty much everything that goes with that lively game. That the sport was manly and straight as such sport goes is undoubted. Then came the gentle reign of the Children's Home. Scoto county's best and richest people were behind the scheme, the fine buildings were erected and furnished and during the decades the children were taken care of and lacked nothing that the heart of childhood might crave. The horseshoe mound is there yet, as green and attractive as ever, the hundreds and thousands of childish feet that for so many years tramped its grass seemed to make the growth more green.

What could be more fitting than for the sacred grounds to be given to the gentle away of the D. A. R. to end of time? The ladies of the chapter agree to place tablets of bronze or granite in proper places where the names of persons of pre-revolutionary note may be enblazoned. And Scoto, Greenup and Lewis counties are thickly populated with people of that ilk. The "hymen" has little show in the names to be found in the three counties named, the latter two in Kentucky. There are the Manns, the Days, the Thompsons, the Sykeses, the Freemans, the Kerses, the Joneses, but pshaw, it would take a volume to record the half of them. Some of them look back to Mayflower days. The Whites, father, son, grandson, and great-grandson, can look for Peregrine White was born on the historic Mayflower, while the ship was moored in what is now Plymouth harbor. This is no advertisement, but if you go into the White jewelry store on Gallia street, you will be very apt to see a pretty baby buggy with a charming and aspiring youngster therein, looking up at you and crowing defiantly as a Pilgrim father. This youngster is Robert Peregrine White, and his ever so many times great-grandfather was born on the Mayflower in Plymouth harbor. Daniel Leslie White is the kid's father, Frank J. White is his grandfather and the handsome man in the frame on the wall is the picture of "Dan" White, the great grandfather. And the wee one in the wicker buggy don't seem to give a penny for any number of Plymouth Rocks, except possibly, the kind that walk, fly and lay eggs, and he would prefer them properly cooked.

The reason for the Madison family temporarily abandoning the regular White House was that the chief magistrate had succeeded in getting our country into war with England and the British army marched over one day and set fire to the then new building, Dolly Madison, the cheerful and lovable first lady in the land,

"Over the Wire" With Alice Lake, the Popular Metro Star Is a Wonderful Picture—Be Sure and See It At The Eastland Theatre Tonight or Tomorrow—Other Good Attractions Also.

Program

- A—Herbert Kaufman's Weekly.
- B—Sweet Revenge: A Christie comedy.
- C—Screen Snapshots: News from the studios.
- D—Overture, "A Midnight Dream" by Schlegel, played by the Eastland orchestra. Wm. Spitzer director.
- E—Metro presents Alice Lake in "Over the Wire."

An eye for an eye; a tooth for a tooth—the old Mosaic code of ethics was called into play yesterday in the Wesley Ruggles Production "Over the Wire," in which Alice Lake stars, and drilled the full-house audience which witnessed the first performance, of this Metro picture at the Eastland theatre.

But more—as they followed with bated breath the dramatic movements of the picture the audience was treated to as unexpected a climax as was ever unfolded. For the action moved relentlessly toward the gaining of vengeance by a young woman whose brother's death had been brought about by a financier; vengeance was almost consummated when suddenly, a flower of love sprung up from the bog of hate. It was a masterly situation, but then the creator of it was Arthur Somers Roche, the fictionist whose book covers ranks him among the best short story writers of the country.

As Kathleen Dexter, Alice Lake, gave a performance of surpassing skill and beauty. Her acting has finish and spontaneity; it sparkles brilliantly like diamond facets, leaving nothing to be desired. Miss Lake's supporting cast includes Albert Roscoe, George Stewart and Allen Hale.

James Oliver Curwood's
"GOD'S COUNTRY and THE LAW"

Here Is James Oliver Curwood Sounding the Call of the North to You Again—Another of His Big Red-Blooded Outdoor Stories Comes To The Eastland Theatre Monday in "God's Country and the Law." Make Your Arrangements Now To See It.

For the scores of local photoplay fans who have been hungering for another "one of those red-blooded photoplay stories by James Oliver Curwood," the management of the Eastland Theatre announces that on Monday and for three days thereafter, "God's Country and the Law," the latest Curwood production, will be shown there.

"God's Country and the Law," while as full as usual of the Curwood North woods color and drama, has a theme different from most of his stories in the past. It is a thrilling dramatic tale of a man hounded by a guilty conscience and driven to destruction by the Great Fear. However, it has one Curwood angle so much delighted in by thousands of Curwood fans in the past. That is, the splendid animal stuff and action.

"God's Country and the Law" has plenty of this animal color and some of the scenes in which three little bear cubs are used have turned out to be feature spots in the picture. Gladys Leslie is playing the star role of Marie supported by a specially selected cast.

While the members of the Loyal Christian Endeavor Society, First Christian church, may be quite serious while in a church session, they can have as much fun as the next bunch, as was fittingly proven, Monday evening when they held their monthly business session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sheridan, 2616 Grandview avenue, and where upwards of thirty members held forth in jolly carnival. There was not a dull moment from the time President Robert Holbrook rapped for order until adjournment time, every person viewing with each other to have real fun and get all possible enjoyment out of life. Games of all sorts were played and while some of the members of the society may be well along in years, everybody was young last evening and sorry indeed when it came time to sound "taps." The members planned for a big winter's work in their business session—how they were going to conduct special drives and make the society second to none. After that President Holbrook let a slack in the reins and fun and frolic ensued with rapid rapidity. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served—and the C. E.'s are there in that game, too. All in all it was a most pleasant evening—every person present enjoying himself to the limit.

What's The Matter

per cent of the number of workers who are employed are getting the best pay and working under the best conditions that have ever been known.

The faith and confidence of the buying public and of business and industrial men are reviving daily, and though there may be fluctuations and seasonal slumps, the business of the nation is moving steadily ahead toward the point where it will have sufficient to do to warrant the employment of all those who seek employment.

There is no reason to expect that conditions will become ideal in a day or a year, but progress is being made and acceleration will come from preachment of better business, more confidence, more work, rather than from continued harping on the unanswerable question, "What's the matter with business?"

Jobless Conferees Are Groping For Solution Of Employment Problem

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The usual skepticism that attends every endeavor of an experimental conference developed the unemployment conference today. Curious about results, the query on most everybody's lips was this: "What can the conference really do, can it furnish work for the unemployed, can it alter the laws of supply and demand, can it bring normalcy?"

Harding Does Not Know Himself
Inquiry at the White House developed the fact that President Harding is according to the suggestion of Secretary Hoover that a conference be called did not himself know exactly what might be achieved. If, indeed, he knew a remedy, he would not have called a meeting of economists, but would have applied that remedy without delay. He had confidence, however, in the engineering mind of Herbert Hoover and he believed that many of the fundamental causes of unemployment might be removed if everybody were agreed as to what those causes are.

Pessimistic Talk Breeds Timidity
If nothing else comes out of the unemployment conference but an agreement as to what are the facts of America's industrial situation, officials will be more than glad. For it is true that some businesses have been retrenching purely because other businesses have done so. Pessimistic talk has bred timidity. Psychological factors have had more to do with the industrial depression than anything else. Fear that the European market would not yield orders because of a diminution of its purchasing power has caused abandonment of plans at a time when the business men of other countries were just beginning to lay plans for a long series of new markets.

Will Give Economic Survey
What the unemployment conference probably will give the people of America is an economic survey of the United States. Without facts and figures all stories about ups and downs of business conditions are mostly conjecture. Surface conditions are not always an index of what is going on. President Harding said so himself in his opening address to the conference when he remarked:

"Frankly, it is difficult to know whether we have reached that bed rock to which reaction runs before the upward course begins, but here are representatives of the forces which make for all we are or ever can be, and your surroundings ought to be reliable."

The President saw before him the representatives of labor and employer groups, captains of industry as well as students of economics. An agreement by them as to what constitutes the true condition of the United States will go along way toward carrying conviction with the people of the country.

Sub-Committees At Work On The Unemployment Problems

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—With the national conference on unemployment standing adjourned until October 5, the ten sub-committees appointed at the organizing session of the conference yesterday were ready to get down to work today on a study of the various phases of the problem assigned to each with a view to recommending practical relief measures to the conference when it reconvenes on that date. Hearings on unemployment statistics, to develop reliable data as to the extent and distribution of unemployment, as a prerequisite to enlightened treatment of the problem, were to begin today before the sub-committee on statistics. Ethelbert S. Sargent, head of the bureau of labor statistics, was slated as the chief witness today and a number of other witnesses will be heard at their request.

The work of the specialized committees, which include committees on employment agencies and registration, and on emergency measures by manufacturers in transportation, construction, mining, shipping and public works, will be carried on simultaneously with the statistical hearings, which will be conducted for a week. Following the adoption of emergency measures after reconvening, the conference again will divide into committees for working out of permanent measures designed to hold unemployment to a minimum.

He said the president received his suggestions with marked interest, but gave no indication that they would be resorted to for the present.

Buff, at 32, Holds Two Titles

Prescription Was Written 65 Years Ago

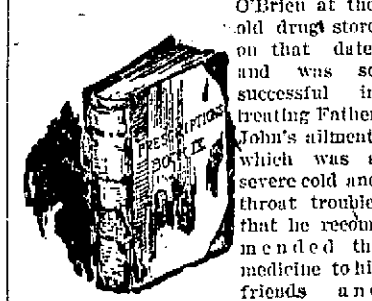

The True History of Father John's Medicine

One of the interesting places in Lowell, Mass., is the old apothecary shop on Merrimack street, established in 1827. This location is still a drug store, although of course modernized in many departments. The old prescription books, however, have been preserved and form an interesting record covering nearly a century.

The Old Drug Store

Perhaps one of the most interesting books is that of the year 1855. On one of the pages of this book, that dated June 10th, 1855 is written the original prescription for Father John's Medicine. This prescription was compounded for the Reverend Father John O'Brien at that date, and was so successful in treating Father John's ailment, which was a severe cold and throat trouble, that he recommended the medicine to his friends and prisoners. In going to the drug store and calling for the medicine, they always asked for Father John's Medicine, and in this way the medicine got its name and was advertised. Father John's Medicine is a safe family medicine for colds, coughs, throat troubles, and as a tonic and body builder, because it does not contain opium, morphine, chloroform, and any other poisonous drugs, or alcohol, but is all pure, wholesome nourishment.—Advertisement.

Woman Found Dead In Hotel

COLUMBUS, O., September 27.—Police today are endeavoring to establish the identification of a young woman, about 23 years of age, who was found dead in a room of a local hotel here yesterday. Efforts so far have been unavailing.

Hotel officials profess to know nothing about the woman. Police believe that the name she registered under, Gladys Cook, Springfield, is an assumed one. Word received from Springfield discloses no knowledge of the woman.

A small bottle of poison was found beside her bed. She wore expensive clothing, it being valued at more than $500. Police believe she came here with a pre-arranged intention of committing suicide.

Defense Tightened

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 27.—Defensive work is being made the feature of Cincinnati university football squad's campaign in preparation for their meeting with West Virginia at Morgantown, Saturday. The Cincinnati line will be outweighed at least six pounds to the man by the mountaineers, and will have to make up this difference in skill and right, according to Coach Boyd Chambers, who expressed himself as confident of victory.

Puzzled Childish Mind

Ward is aged 6. He stood close by his mother as she looked over last summer's wearing apparel. Finally she turned to him, and holding up a pair of his old pants, said: "Well, I declare, these pants are too small for you." The child looked at them thoughtfully for awhile, then asked, "Mother, what makes pants grow small?"

Help That Aching Back!

Is your back giving out? Are you tired, miserable, all run down, tortured with aching backache, lameness and sudden, stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an all worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy for kidney troubles, folks recommend. Ask your neighbor.

Here's A Portsmouth Case

Jacob Simon, shoemaker, 31 3rd St., says: "I had a sore and painful back. Stopping work sent sharp, piercing pains through my kidneys and I couldn't straighten. Morning I was lame and sore. I tried easily and my kidneys were weak. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Webster Bros. Drug Store and I was soon rid of the trouble."

BRINGING UP FATHER

Fail To Find Trace Of Gun User

Sheriff E. E. Ricker and Deputy Wanzler returned home early Tuesday from a trip down the Ohio river and in Lewis county, Ky., where they went in quest of Marion Joseph, who shot and seriously wounded James "Doc" Lewis at Worley's Inn, West Side, Sunday afternoon. The officers returned empty-handed being forced to give up the chase for the fugitive without gaining any trace of him further than that he took down the river in a boat Sunday afternoon a short time after the shooting which resulted in the wounding of Lewis, who was shot in the left side and in the right hip.

There was little or no change in Lewis's condition over last night and Tuesday morning it was stated that his condition was still regarded as rather serious. He may recover if no complications set in.

Miss Alice Dyer, the central figure in the shooting, who was taken into custody and held as a material witness in the case, may be released on bond for her appearance when wanted. The shooting resulted from jealousy on the part of Joseph. It is claimed, when he caught the girl in the company of his rival, Lewis.

G. A. R. Plans For Final Disposition Of Property

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 27.—Members of the Grand Army of the Republic, realizing that the organization is growing old, are planning that during the fifty-fifth annual encampment, now being held here, arrangements shall be made for final disposition of the property of the order.

Frank M. Sterrett, of Troy, Ohio, is said to have ready for presentation at one of the business sessions, probably today, a resolution which would provide for what he terms the "last will and testament of the G. A. R." Provision would be made for disposition of all the property of the Grand Army when the last members are gone.

The veterans spent much time today getting in trim for the annual parade, which is to be held tomorrow. Little groups from different posts held impromptu parades today, marching behind the life and drum corps, which many years ago played them on their way to war.

Enormous Purchase Of Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, September 27.—Further enormous purchases of liberty bonds and victory notes overshadowed all other dealings on the stock exchange this morning. The first hour's sales of bonds approximated 6,000,000 and fully 75 percent of this was represented by United States government issues.

Almost all domestic war flotations rose to highest quotations of the year, but the feature was the victory 4-4-1's, which advanced to 99 1/2.

This issue was taken in blocks running from small amounts to $250,000 and $400,000. One lot of $1,000,000 changed hands.

24 1/2 Million Dollars Invested by Employees of Swift & Company

More than 21,000 employees of Swift & Company own or are paying for shares in the business. These men and women have attested their faith in the integrity and good will of the company by investing their savings in the business.

Their holdings represent a total of nearly 250,000 shares, the par value ($100 a share) of which is more than $24,500,000.

These 21,000 represent more than one-third of our average number of employees!

One man out of every three, in plant, office, and branch house, from the handworker on the floor to the brain worker at the desk; working with us as well as for us, devoting himself to his own business while devoting himself to ours; promoting his own interests in every motion or moment saved, in every product improved or maintained at perfection, in every service rendered through prompt, thorough, effective distribution of products.

This interested, eager group of fellow partners working with us for the good of Swift & Company and the public which we serve, constitutes one-half of the ownership of Swift & Company in point of numbers, and nearly one-sixth in point of shares outstanding.

It represents practical and successful progress toward the end at which enlightened modern industry is aiming for the solution of industrial problems—toward cooperation, mutuality, brotherhood in business, for the good of all.

A Friend In Need Is A Friend Indeed

We know a young man who recently lost his position.

He was steady and competent--but an unforeseen combination of circumstances threw him out of a job.

He had saved no money whatever--found himself out of work, penniless, with a family to maintain.

Friends helped this young man. But he was idle several months and had to wait another before drawing any pay in the position he finally secured.

It will take some time before this young man pays what he owes--provided he observes strictest economy.

That he had friends was unusually fortunate.

What a different position he would have found himself in if he had saved some money when he had it and placed it with some bank or building association.

If you have not a Savings Account, start one today and learn that your bank or building association is your best friend

PHILS WIN

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—Philadelphia achieved its first Pittsburgh victory of the season by taking Monday's game 2 to 1. Hubbell was unsteady, passing five men, but lightened up with two bases. Kogel's batting was responsible for the visitors' runs, scoring the first man with a single and tallying himself on his double to left and Rader's single. Maracevich's single, his steal to second and Rader's hit accounted for the Pirates' run.

Looks Like New York Teams Will Win Pennants In Leagues

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Father by Cleveland in their final four games with the White Sox.
The Yankees may not find the going so easy today with St. Louis as their opponents, especially if Urban Shocker, their old jinx, twirls against them. Shocker, a former Yankee, who has beaten them several times this season, was at the Polo grounds yesterday and served notice on Manager Huggins' men that he means to pitch today and beat them.
The 8 to 7 victory for New York over Cleveland yesterday made it three out of four in the "little world's series." Featuring the final thrilling battle was Ruth's batting, Miller's spectacular fielding and May's pitching. Ruth hit two homers and a double, Miller saved the game for the Yankees in the eighth by a shoe-string catch off Speaker's bat with two runners on base.

Two more victories out of four games for the Glants and the pennant will be theirs, even though the Pirates are successful in all their remaining games. If the Yankees win three of five games left on their schedule, they will be the American league champions, despite a possible clean sweep by Youngs.

INDIANS AGAIN BOW TO YANKEES

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—New York took a firm grip on first place in the exciting American League pennant race and went a long way toward clinching their first championship by defeating Cleveland in a tense, thrilling struggle here Monday by a score of 8 to 7. The victory gave New York three out of four victories from the present world's champions and gave New York a lead of two full games with Cleveland having only four more games to play and New York five.

George "Babe" Ruth, the famous Yankee slugger, was the hero of the New York victory as he had one of his greatest batting days since coming into the American League. Ruth hit two home runs, a two bagger and walked in four times up. He either scored or drove in five of the eight New York runs. Ruth's first home run was made off Coveleskie in the first with no one on base and the second was prodded out of Uble in the fifth after Peckinpaugh had opened the inning with a single. Both home runs were terrific drives, the first clearing the upper corner of the right field stand and landing in a runaway in back of the bleachers, while the second cleared the roof of the right field grand stand. Each manager called in three pitchers in an effort to win the crucial struggle. Quinn started for the Yankees but was knocked out in the first inning and did well until he injured his hand while stopping a hot drive by Speaker in the seventh. Mays, who pitched only yesterday, relieved Hoyt in the eighth, and had a stormy ninth as Sewell and Burns were on base when Mays struck out O'Neill for the last out. Coveleskie, who lost the opening game of the series, was knocked out in the third inning and was replaced by Uble, who shut out New York in last Saturday's game. Only four hits were scored in the game, but the Yankees won on a home run followed by a single. It was Schatz's home run in the sixth with McNally on base which gave New York two runs and the victory. The hitting of George Burns, who made a triple and three singles, featured Cleveland's play. Ruth hit in the eighth and scored a fifth. The defensive play of Elmer Miller saved the game for New York. His diving catch of Speaker's short fly in the eighth with runners on second and third, prevented Cleveland from taking the lead in that inning.

Miller's splendid throw in the seventh cut down Sewell at third for the third out, following a hit by Burns who had sent in two runs.

P. H. S. vs New Boston Hi Friday

When Friday afternoon rolls around Coach Fries of the P. H. S. eleven expects to have the Red and Blue grid-iron in shape to meet any team in this section. Friday afternoon on the Industrial League lot the P. H. S. will clash with the New Boston high school eleven. This will be the opening game of the high school football season. Each afternoon this week the local lads will be put through strict workouts. Monday afternoon a change was made in the varsity lineup, Tommy Brock being shifted from a fullback position to end, while Kogel was sent to the halfback position for a tryout. The big lad has had considerable experience on the local high school team. Kogel was in school five years ago and played on the P. H. S. eleven. He has been working out on the second team and in the last few days has shown his old time form which warrants him a tryout on the first eleven. There is hardly any doubt but what Kogel will remain with the first team and as he is a hard hitter of a line it is probable he will be kept in the backfield. The first team candidates are showing up well against the second team in scrimmage practice. Principal H. H. Eccles worked out with the second team last night "just to keep in shape," he says. The season tickets selling for $1 are finding a ready sale.

Ruth's Bat Humming Sweetly

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—With a total of 58 home runs hit this year, Babe Ruth, of the New York Yankees, today was pointing toward a mark of 60, which he hopes to attain before the season closes. He has five games in which to reach the three score figure. Ruth walloped the ball for two circuit clouts in the game against Cleveland yesterday. A two bagger gave him a perfect batting average. He also hit two homers in one day last year, off Pitcher Hound, of the Philadelphia Athletics, on September 27. In the four games just finished against Cleveland, the president of the home run club averaged .727, with the bat making eight hits for a total of 18 bases.

To Get Early Start

It is a little early, but as Manager Julius Bressman says, its the early bird that catches the worm, so he has ordered all candidates for the Selects basketball five out for practice Friday night. Practice will be held in the high school gym. Among the new candidates for the team this year will be Coach Stivers of New Boston high school. Stivers is a former college star and should make a valuable addition to the local team. Other candidates will include Barber, Kent, Kendall, Forner, Doll and Bauer.

Order the flag for the "Gints." They won yesterday while the Pirates lost to the lowly Phils. For the McGraw clan it is all over but the shouting. The Gints have tamed the Cards and will give the Yankees a great run for their money.

Cut Squad To 40
GREENL, O., Sept. 27.—Oberlin's varsity football squad has been cut to forty-four players by Coach Metcalf. These men were put through a hard practice, but no scrimmage with the opening of this week's drill. Scrimmage against the high school eleven has been announced for today and Wednesday in order to condition the team for its game with Wittenberg Saturday.

To Play Jackson
The Ironton Tanks are picking the soft ones to open their season. They play the Jackson eleven in Ironton next Sunday.
